

PRESIDENT TRUMAN TO PRESENT TO CONGRESS TODAY HIS BLUEPRINT OF STRIKE-CURBING LEGISLATION AND PROPOSALS FOR KEEPING ECONOMY ON THE UPSWING

To Appear Before Joint Session of Republican-
Controlled Congress

"STATE OF THE UNION"

Most Important Message To Law-Makers in This Post-War Era

By Robert G. Nixon
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—(INS)—President Truman presents to Congress today his blueprint of strike-curb legislation and proposals for keeping the nation's economy on the upswing in 1947.

Mr. Truman appears in person before a joint session of the Republican-controlled Congress to deliver his annual State of the Union message shortly after one p. m. e. s. t.

For Mr. Truman, and for the country at large, the message will be the most important given to the lawmakers in the present post-war era.

The President is expected to ask specifically for:

1. Congressional action to empower the President to deal with future strikes in major industries.

2. Merger of the armed forces into a single department of national defense.

3. Universal training of the nation's youth to provide a trained backlog of fighting men in event of another war.

The drama of the moment will be enhanced by Mr. Truman being accompanied on this visit with the new Republican Congress by his full democratic cabinet. The cabinet officers will assemble at the White House shortly after noon and accompany Mr. Truman in a body to Capitol Hill where he will address a joint session assembled in the House chamber.

Mr. Truman's message will be a long one, though considerably shorter than that of last year in which he combined the budget message with that of the State of the Union. Today's address will run almost 6,000 words in length. It will require about 50 minutes for delivery.

The message will be broadcast nationwide. The event will be transmitted visually by television for the first time in history.

The Chief Executive is expected to deal with two main themes. One—probably the most important—will be his formula for preventing further labor disputes in major industries such as the coal mines and railroads which threaten paralysis of the nation.

Another will be a broad discussion of the economic outlook. Still a third subject will deal with progress made toward peace, overshadowed by a warning that a year and a half after V-J Day the world is still menaced by threats of future war.

A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

Chairman Wiley of the Senate Judiciary Committee voiced Republican determination to censor Presidential appointments. He said the Federal bench was overloaded with "democratic leftists" and demanded a restoration of balance by the designation of "a fair proportion of Republicans" to fill vacancies.

Labor developments included publication of NLRB figures showing an increasing disinclination on the part of workers during November to have any union represent them in collective bargaining. Wide attention has been drawn to Mayor O'Dwyer's industrial relations plan, which has kept New York City free of important strikes since October 1.

Now is the time to start planning the dispersal and underground protection of defense industries against atomic warfare, Brig. Gen. Robert Wood Johnson declared. The former WPB vice chairman urged the appointment of a five-man civilian committee to map a program.

Most observers foresaw no change in the United States' attitude on the veto in United Nations atomic energy control after the resignation of Bernard M. Baruch, although a few anticipated a "softening" in the

Award Custody of Tots To Mother at Chalfont

CHALFONT, Jan. 6.—A Chalfont mother is favored in a litigation decision, Judge George C. Corson, Montgomery County, having given Mrs. Emma L. Ewer possession of her own children so she might take them to her home near here. Action of Mrs. Ewer to secure custody of the children was fought by her brother-in-law and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ewer, Willow Grove. The latter couple had been providing a home for the children for the past year.

The father of the children took the side of his brother in the effort to keep the children away from their mother, from whom he has been separated since September, 1945.

The centers of the litigation are Robert William Ewer, 5, and John Wayne Ewer, 2. It was set forth in the action that the mother took care of the children herself from September of 1945 until January, 1946, then was forced to give them up because of her financial circumstances. The children were placed, by mutual agreement of the separated husband and wife, with the Frank Ewers.

Subsequently, the mother obtained a position and made her home near Chalfont with her father, two sisters and brother. She asked the return of the children, but was refused. The court action followed.

Opposing the motion to get custody of the children, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ewer alleged that the mother was an unfit person.

The court pointed out, in handing down its decision in her favor, that Mrs. Ewer had been entirely frank in her statement of her past on the witness stand, and of her plans for future marriage.

BLIND "HAM" HELPS WOMAN TALK TO SON

Morrisville Man Makes Contact With Soldier in Frankfurt, Germany

TALK IS RECORDED

MORRISVILLE, Pa., Jan. 6.—(INS)—A blind radio "ham" and a Carlisle mother were both happy today following a short-wave broadcast to Frankfurt, Germany.

Mrs. Ruth Bushey, 51, was happy because she talked with her soldier-son, 1st Lt. William Bushey, for the first time since he went overseas 27 months ago.

And Joseph Piechowski, 33, was overjoyed because the conversation took place through his amateur station, W3FTL, on a 10-meter radio telephone hook-up with an Army signal corps station in Frankfurt.

Piechowski first contacted the signal corps station on Christmas day and found he was talking with Lt. Bushey. And so his mother drove 200 miles to Morrisville yesterday for the radio chat.

To make things even better, another amateur operator, Joseph Patrick, 32, of Trenton, N. J., made a record of the conversation by prearrangement and rushed it to Mrs. Bushey before she left for home.

Piechowski, although blind, also works as a drill press operator in Trenton and has aided in development of a new type of electronic reading for the blind.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

"Phonus Bolognus"

Washington, Jan. 6.—THE character of the campaign to avert effective labor legislation at the coming session of Congress, recently revealed in the outpouring of various spokesmen of the "true liberalism," is not without its amusing side. Certainly, its transparency is complete. A feeble-minded child should have no difficulty in seeing through it.

THE basic idea is to scare the incoming Congress away from real action, confine it to the enactment of innocuous amendments to existing labor laws which will not appreciably diminish the power of the labor bosses and to which they will not particularly object. This, of course, is a good trick if you can do it. But the arguments that are being used certainly are not very convincing and some are downright silly.

FOR EXAMPLE, there is the Communist argument. Coming from CIO proponents, this is particularly interesting because for some years now, the CIO publicity outfit has consistently denounced any mention of Communism in connection with its organization as outrageous and unfounded. A complete reversal of this attitude seems to have taken place. Instead of insisting that there is no trace of Communism in the CIO and that the mere suggestion of such is a wicked libel, we are now told that "a bitter underground war is going on in the labor movement between Communists and anti-Communists."

THE only news in this is that it should be admitted instead of denied by proponents of the CIO. However, the reason for the admission becomes plain with the further declaration that while the anti-Communists recently have been making gains over the Communists in this "bitter underground war," this trend would be reversed and the Communists gain ascendancy, if Congress unwisely indulged in "excesses" on labor legislation. In other words, Congress is being pointedly warned that the hard-pressed but purchased CIO is having a desperate time right now keeping the Communists from getting the upper hand.

At the moment, it is said, there is a good chance that virtue will prevail. But, if Congress goes to "extremes" or does anything "drastic," why then

FOUR DOYLESTOWN YOUTHS UNDER ARREST

Quartette Taken Into Custody; Accused of Beating and Robbing War "Vet"

THEY DENY THE CRIME

Four Doylestown youths are in custody of police. The quartette was taken into custody when a youthful war veteran reported that he had been brutally beaten and robbed of $17.26 in Cheltenham Township early yesterday.

The victim, Milton Weisman, 19, of 6536 N. 18th street, Philadelphia, had accepted a lift from the four after he had missed the last bus home.

The four, all of whom denied the crime, gave their names as William McLaughlin, 19, of S. Main street, Doylestown; his brother, Hugh, 22; Raymond Andrews, 29, of Washington street, Doylestown; and Charles Beitz, 29, of Union avenue, Doylestown.

They were arrested, en route to their homes, at Old York road and Easton road, Willow Grove, by Upper Moreland Township police after Cheltenham Township police had broadcast on the police radio a description of the car and its occupants.

Weisman told police he was walking home from a "date" when he managed to throw a ride in the automobile at 19th and City Line, Phila. Once he was in the car, he said, its occupants refused to let him off near his home but instead drove him to Church road and Township line, Cheltenham township.

There, he said, William McLaughlin threatened him with a long bladed knife and the others beat him.

COMMUNISM AND SCHOOLS

One of the most important documents of the winter is now in process of circulation.

It is a sixteen-page pamphlet entitled "Our Children," published by the National Education Association of the United States, and released yesterday.

Its importance lies in the fact that it is obviously intended to open a two-front war in the field of education. One front is for the nationalization of public schools. The other is for large salary increases for teachers, plus a stronger tenure for them in their positions.

The first war, of course, will be fought out in Congress. The other will take place in the numerous legislatures which will be reorganizing and getting down to work in various states. The primary function of the booklet is to serve as a sort of "Bible" for teachers' organizations in this long battleline.

Those who are seriously interested in the great question of the day, upon which our national future may be said to hinge—the question of whether we are to venture into collectivist dictatorship or try to remain "free and equal"—can do nothing better than to obtain a copy, and to devote some earnest thought to the assumptions and arguments it contains.

What their reaction will be will depend, in the main, on how well they recognize Communism when they see it.

For the document breathes the spirit of the "new order," from cover to cover. The Communists themselves will hail it as a master-statement of their convictions—in private, at least; for in public they deal too much in misdirection to tip their hands.

When you read the pamphlet, don't let yourself be confused by the constant eulogisms of "democracy," or by the frequent repetition of catch-phrases from our own underlying historical documents.

DESIRE A NEW NAME FOR SOUTH LANGHORNE

Representatives of Borough
Groups Speak Favorably

MANY TAKE ACTION

SOUTH LANGHORNE, Jan. 6.—South Langhorne residents are involved in discussion these days over possibility of changing the name of the borough.

Over a period of years the subject has periodically arisen as to advisability of change of the borough name, and with announcement of movement by borough officials last week leading to possible change, interest on the part of residents in general is revived.

The present name "South Langhorne," officials were informed at a dinner meeting last week, goes back to about 1919 when the post office was named "Elden." And the town was known by the same name. With desire for standardization for business reasons, the name of "South Langhorne" was chosen for the post office and community.

Speaking at the dinner Joseph A. Keating, council president, informed: "A few years ago the Associated Business Men made a brief attempt to have the name changed, but a lack of interest due to outside membership caused the matter to die in committee. Later, at a borough dinner at Quakertown in 1941, Isaac J. VanArtsdalen, borough solicitor, suggested that the borough was outstanding and self-sufficient to the point where it should be equally separated in name."

Mr. Keating asserted that "this is the time for such a move to be made if anything is to be accomplished South Langhorne," he stated, "is the fastest growing little borough in the county. Much property is ripe for development, a sewage system is coming, and council has several matters pending for 1947 that would be of benefit to the citizens of the borough."

In outlining the procedure, he pointed out that it would be necessary to sell the idea, secure the necessary funds, and circulate a petition for presentation to the court at Doylestown.

Mr. Keating's announcement was promptly supported by several people present, including Harry Shetzline, who asserted that the company he represents will subscribe a tenth of the money necessary for the expenses. Others, including Burgess Joseph A. Downing, Councilman O'Brien, Lappan, Sodano, Brelsford, Justice of the Peace Flexman, Tax Collector Alexander Knox, as well as other members of the official borough family, spoke favorably on the change.

HOSPITAL CASES

Bucks County Rescue Squad transported the following patients during the week-end.

Theodore Cause, Third avenue, to Abington Hospital.

Mrs. Frank Satterthwaite, West Circle, to Harrington Hospital.

Mrs. Dolan, Pine street, to Abington Hospital, she having appendicitis.

Mary Bilger, of Newportville, has been named the respondent in a libel in divorce by William Bilger, 512 Pond street, Bristol. They were married July 15, 1921, in Philadelphia. They separated August 1, 1939.

Rhoda May Saxton, 821 Third avenue, Bristol, has begun an action in divorce against her husband, Charles Ernest Saxton, 336 Old Bath road, Bristol. They were married January 30, 1923, in Burlington, N. J.

An automobile damage suit for $1,000, has been filed.

Claiming damages amounting to $1,000, Joseph Elintski, 1512 North Fifth street, Philadelphia, has named Ralph Norino, North Jackson avenue, Washington, N. J., the defendant in an action in trespass.

According to the statement of claim, both motorists were driving north on Route 611, near Street road, Warrington township, June 19, when Norino attempted to pass the plaintiff and struck his car.

42 WORKERS LISTED

Seeks Reimbursement For Time Consumed in Washing Up, Changing Clothes

In the first suit of its kind involving a Bristol firm the Superior Zinc Corporation is made the defendant in an action filed seeking portal to portal pay.

The Bristol firm is being sued for $500,000.

The claim was termed "subject to correction" by Louis F. McCabe, counsel for the local, who said the union reserved the right to amend the amount sought after the exact sum of allegedly due overtime pay is ascertained from the companies' records.

McCabe also petitioned for "a reasonable attorney's fee," which he said was allowed under Wage-Hour Law in cases where employers fail to pay stipulated rates to employees. The suit is in behalf of 42 employees of the Superior Zinc Corporation. The court was asked to consider "all other workers similarly situated."

As in previous claims, the action sought reimbursement for time consumed in activities such as washing up and changing clothing which, it was averred, were required by the firm but not paid for during the last eight years.

TWO BIG GAMES ARE BOOKED AS BENEFIT

Tomorrow night two big games of basketball will be played on the floor of the Bristol high school auditorium. The receipts will be for the benefit of the Bristol Firemen's Parade which is to be held here in 1948.

The Bristol firemen have invited the Bucks County's Firemen's Association to hold the annual convention here in 1948 and are now conducting an active campaign to raise funds for that big event.

The opposing teams which will battle it out tomorrow night are Profy vs. Yardley and Hibernians vs. Morrisville.

The top-off will be at 7.30 and two lively games are anticipated.

him until he surrendered a wallet containing $11 in cash and a Government terminal leave check for $6.26.

He said he put up a fight in which he managed to kick one of his assailants in the head. After that, he said, the four drove to another spot in the township, where they resumed beating him. They finally threw him out of the car, he said, near the home of Jerry Schultz, of 32 Township line.

The latter summoned Cheltenham police, who took Weisman to the Abington Memorial Hospital. While he was being treated for lacerations of the face and head, a cut hand and two black eyes, Clyde Pierson and Earl Dale, of the Upper Moreland police, arrested the four suspects.

The police said they found a knife on William McLaughlin and sums of money on all four. They said they were unable to find the stolen wallet or the Government check. All four, they said, had blood stains on their hands and clothing.

Weisman is holder of the Purple Heart. He was wounded in France during a year-and-a-half service overseas. Since his discharge about a year ago, he told police, he has been taking a veterans' speed-up course at Benjamin Franklin High School preparatory to entering the Temple School of Dentistry.
